

Language Exchange

A language exchange is when 2 people with different first languages meet each other. Each person speaks his first language, the language the other person is trying to learn, or wants to start to learn. On our web page you have the possibility to search for a language exchange (or other kinds of language contact: e-mail correspondence, penpals, language teachers/private tutors, etc.) for any language in the world. This service is free of charge.
